Adverb Clause

An adverb clause is a subordinate clause that often modifies the verb in the main clause of a complex sentence. An adverb clause tells how, when, where, why, or under what conditions the action occurs. Adverb clauses are introduced by subordinating conjunctions; after, although, because, before, until, unless, wherever, while, whenever

Underline each adverb clause below.

Example: After the movie, we went for ice cream.

Answer: After the movie, we went for ice cream.

1. Unless he comes late, I will stay awake.
2. Whenever they show, I will be waiting for them.
3. When she gets the mail, make sure to tell her the good news.
4. As if she knew, she will be surprised.
5. While he waits, let's go and get a hamburger.
6. After the show, we will go get some ice cream.
7. Although they are early, they will still have to wait in line.
8. If they win, they will have won three straight championships.
9. I think of you whenever I hear that song.
10. Two people called while you were sleeping.
11. I passed the test because I studied hard.
